

International Research Workshop on Global Conflicts and Resilience of Economic Systems

Organized by Seminar on Macroeconomics and Economic Systems, Seminar Comparative Economics KIER, Kyoto University
And the Joint usage and Joint Research Centre, KIER, Kyoto University and the Japanese
Society of Comparative Economic Studies
Supported by KIER Foundation and by Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research
JSPS KAKENHI Grant Number 23K20397

Date: March 11, 2025 13:00-17:30

Venue: First Joint Research Room, 4F, Institute of Economic Research, Main Building, Kyoto University

Programme:

Session 1. International Sanctions and the Resilience of Economic and Political Systems. 13:00-15:00

Moderator: Satoshi Mizobata (Kyoto University)

Steven Rosefielde (University of North Carolina) “Resetting Russian Economic Sanctions: Trump’s Options”

Commentator: Kumiko Haba (Waseda University), Evzen Kocenda (Charles University)

Coffee break 15:00-15:15

Session 2. Global Value Chains and the Resilience of Russia’s Economic System. 15:15-17:50

Moderator: Mihoko Satogami (Soka University)

Satoshi Mizobata (Kyoto University) “Economic Sanctions and the Resilience of Russia’s State-led Economic System”

Katsumi Fujiwara (Osaka University) “The impact of economic sanctions on Russian economy”

Hironori Fushita (Kobe City University of Foreign Languages) “Russia’s Aircraft Industry in Reshaping Global Value Chains”

Kazuho Yokogawa (Kanagawa University) “Sustainability of the Russian State Budget in the Age of Turbulence”

Victor Gorshkov (Kyoto University) “The Resilience of Russia’s Financial Sector”

Discussant: Takuma Kobayashi (Matsuyama University), Evzen Kocenda (Charles University)

Contact info about this event:

Satoshi Mizobata (Kyoto University) mizobata@kier.kyoto-u.ac.jp

